

My journey about learning english, started several years ago, I had studied at school, and later in my universities' years, but the knowledge that I acquired was only to pass the test and never be able to speak fluently, then I have decided that I need to change that and moreover study to be ready to obtain the FCE and be capable to work abroad. These are my goals and roadmap.